

The unicorn saw the golden egg. The unicorn got stuck in the egg. The keys, with two key, with so many keys bashed the egg, the small keys worked. It cracked the egg. The unicorn came out!

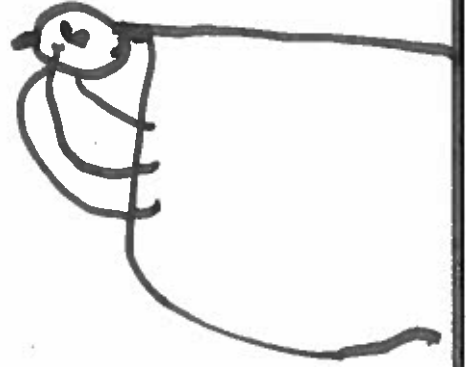

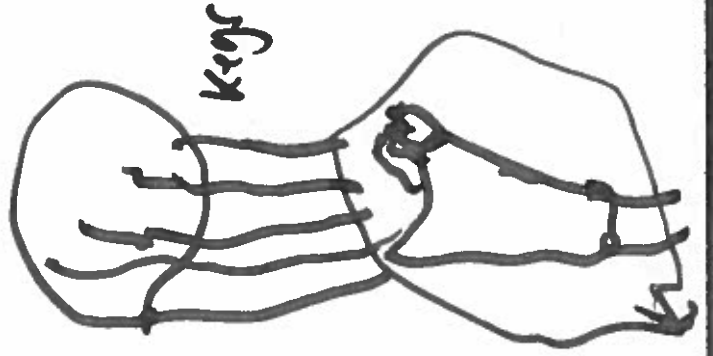

The end.

Eno.

DEU

The golden egg.
The egg cracked.

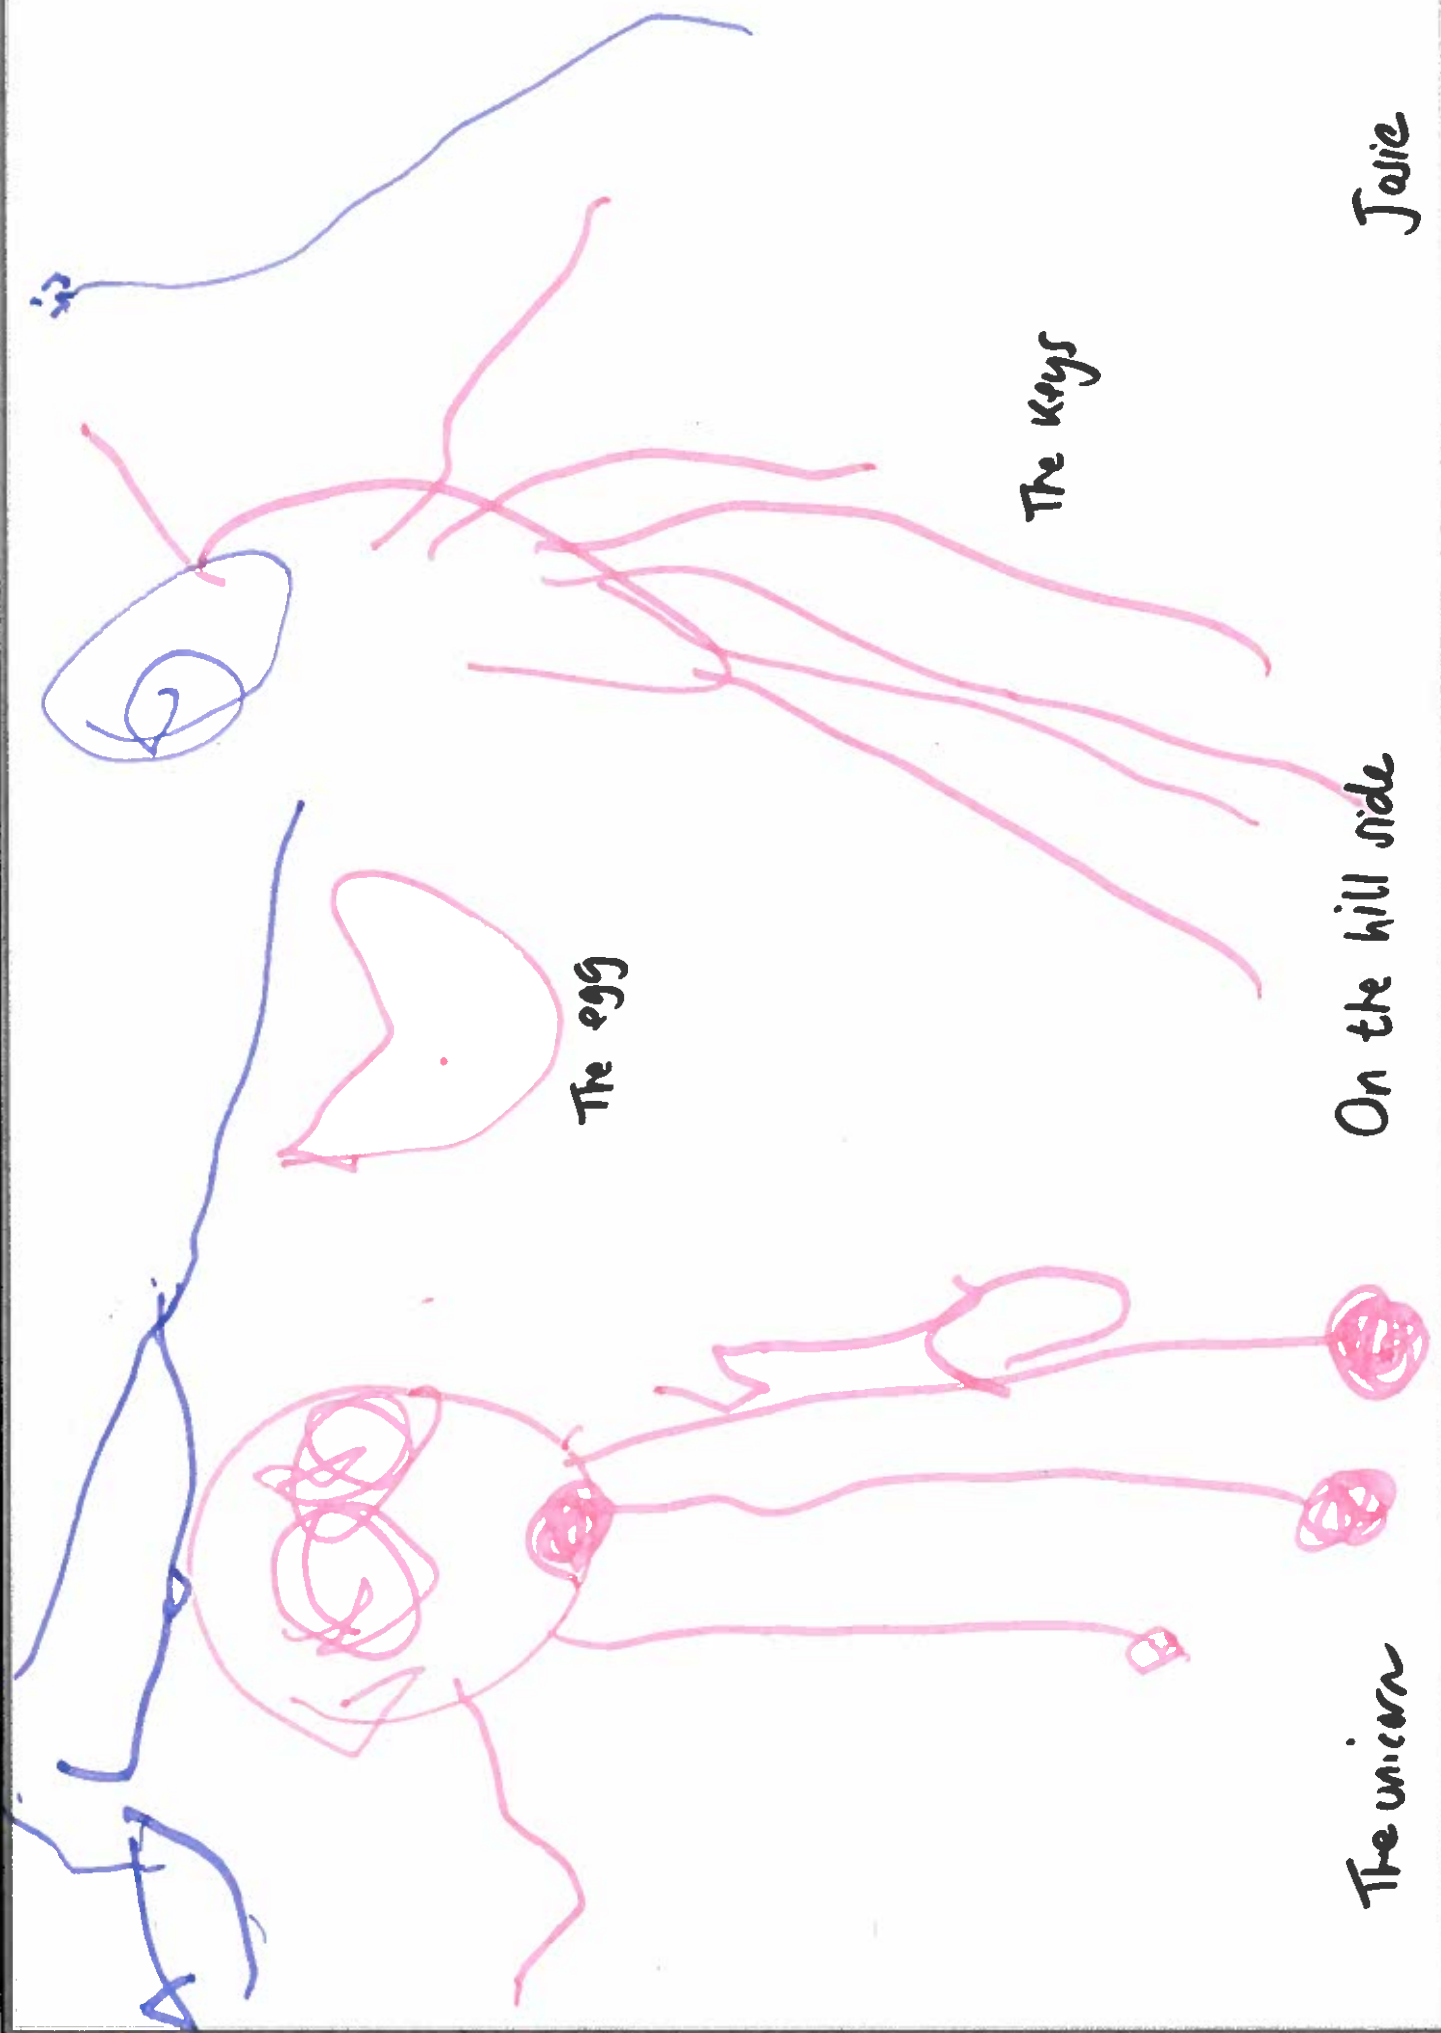

The horse

Once there was a unicorn called Lucy. She lived on a hillside in a field. She clippety clopped to a golden egg. She got trapped, her head got stuck. She said "help! help!" She needed the key. Then it bashed, the key then cracked the golden egg apart. She clippety clopped back to her hillside. She ate lots of grass. Then she fell asleep.

The end

Josie

The keys

The egg

The unicorn

On the hill side

Jorie

Ramen

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

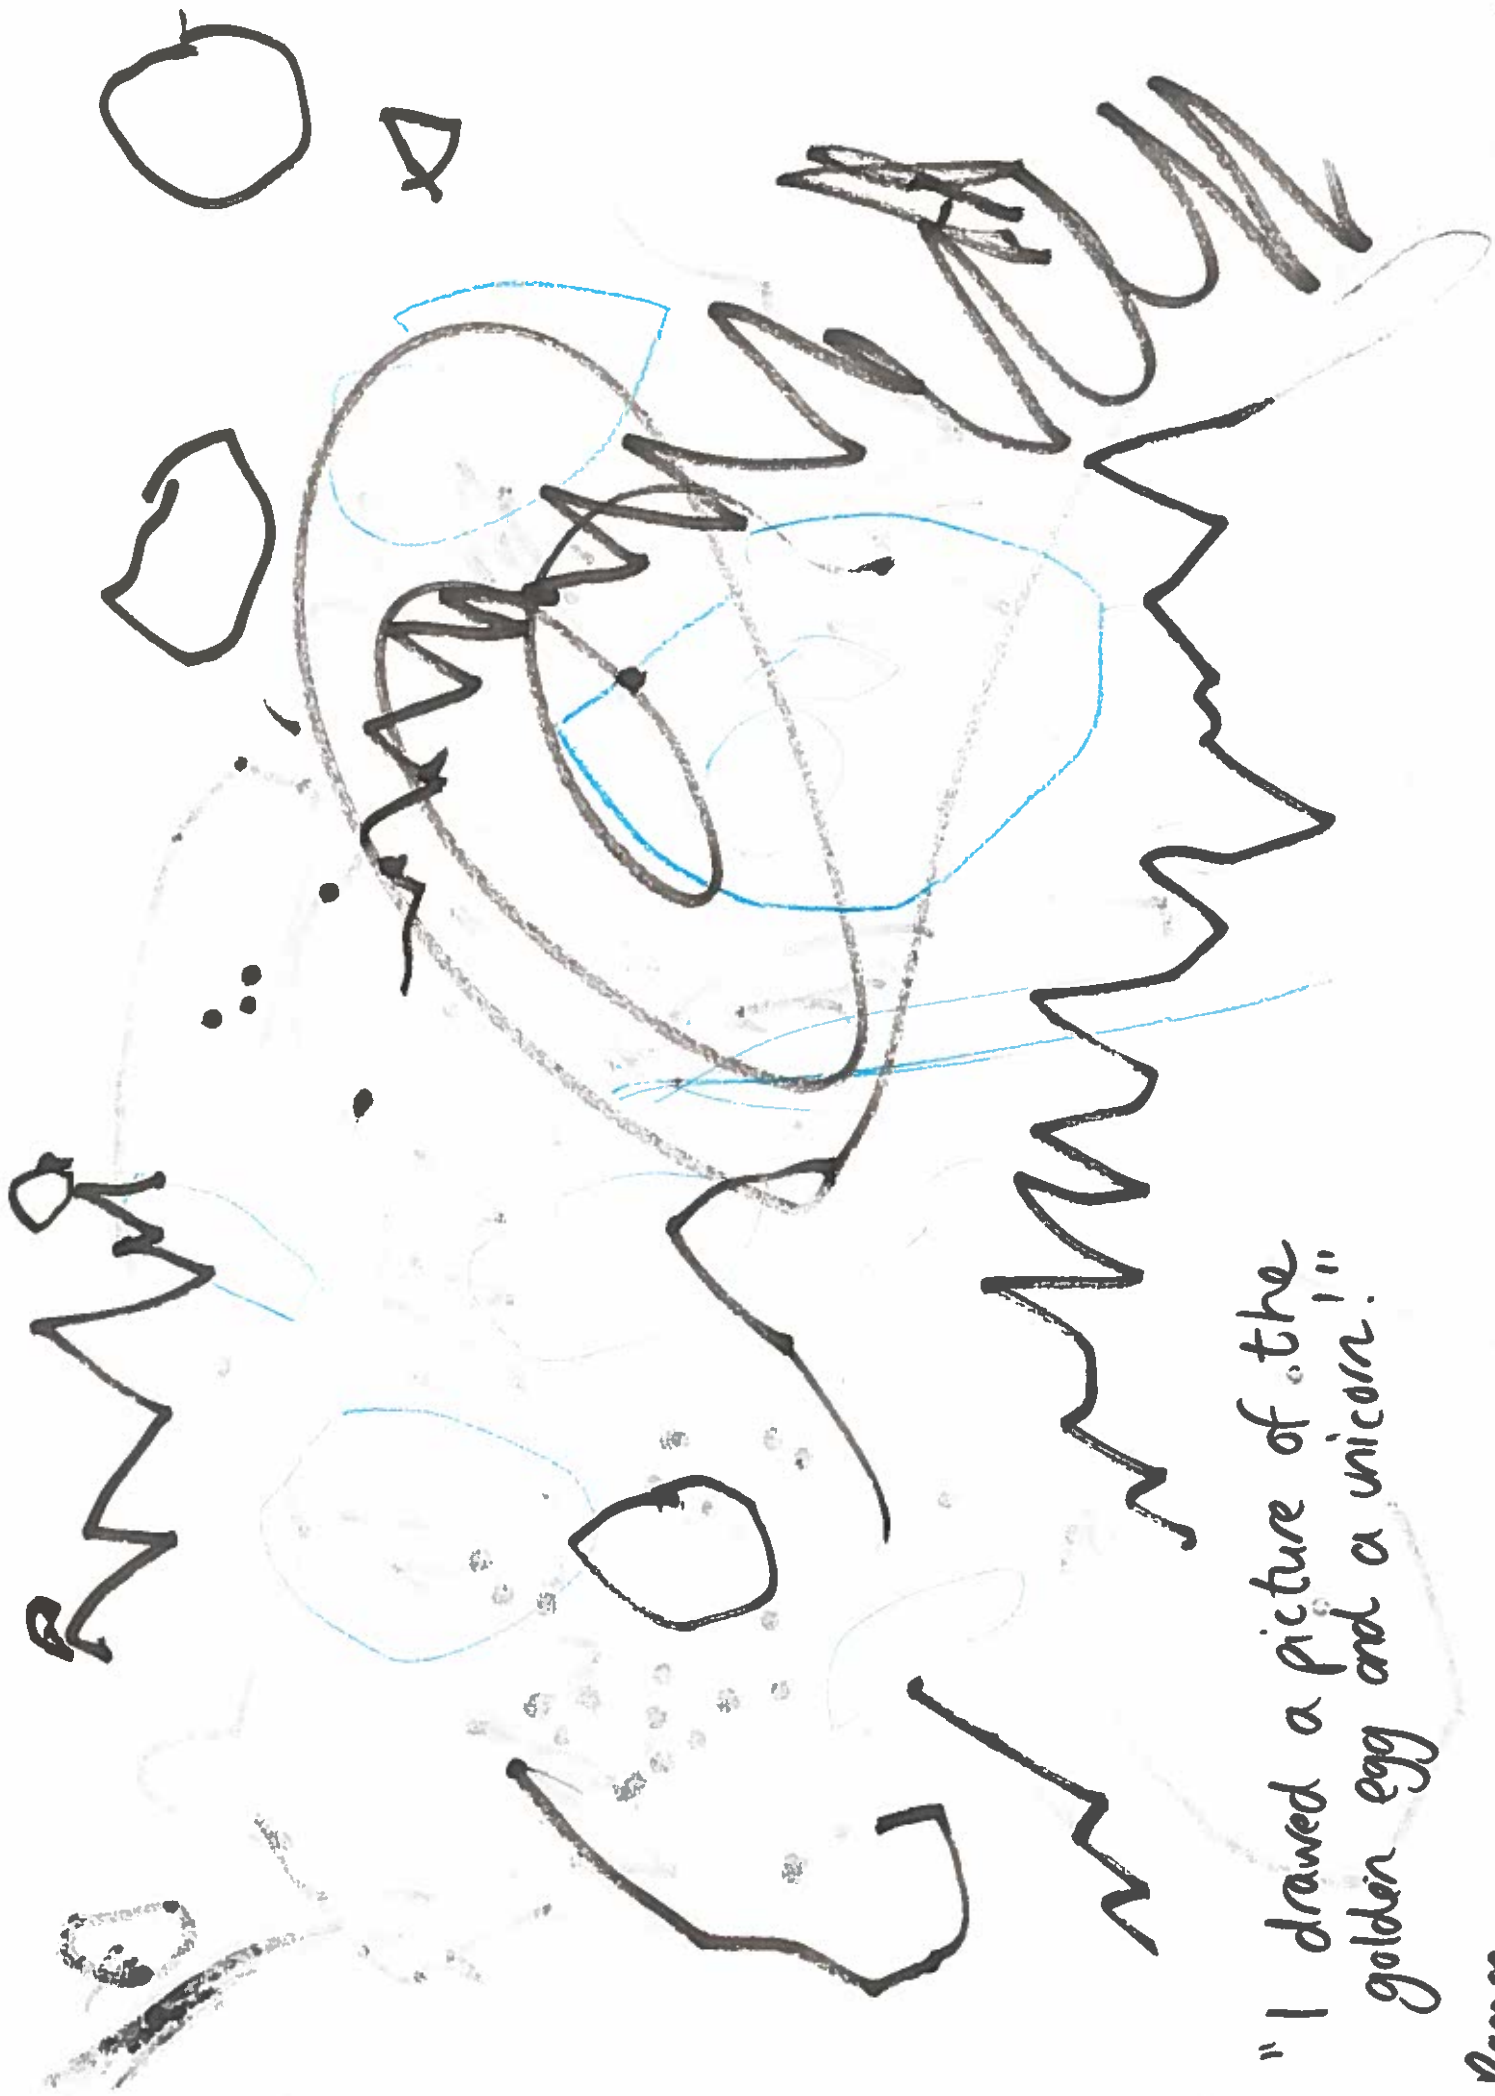

The unicorn's name is Choppycorn. He lived in a jungle. He saw an egg. It was closed. It smashed onto Choppycorn's head! Choppycorn rolled into a flower. The law patrol rescue they picked the keys up and they picked Choppycorn up. And then a big monster came. They said 'Ahh!' The law patrol screamed for me. I was Spider man, I fight the big blue monster. The monster was dead and then a ghoat came. I fight it and then a godin came. It was smelly. A witch came, she's got slime. A vampire came,

a bat came. They're getting dead!
Then nobody came!

The end.

Roman.

"I drew a picture of the golden egg and a unicorn!"

Roma

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

PAW 4

e @ @

ories
At one time there was a unicorn. The unicorn was called Dawud. It lived on the grass in the forest. It saw a monster, it had sharp teeth. The egg, the monster egg ran away. The monster got the keys. He beat ~~the~~ the unicorn up with the keys. ~~The~~ The unicorn's daddy beat the monster up. The monster ran away. Dawud
and his daddy ~~the~~ the unicorn went home.

The end.

DAWUD

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

"mama"

"daddy"

"This is the unicorn"

Lily

One day there was a unicorn. He was called Donny. He lived in a forest. The unicorn poked his head in the egg. He was stuck! The magic key was there. Lily picked up the key. The key tapped the egg it didn't work, picked up another key, tapped it, didn't work. Tapped another one, didn't work. Tapped another one and another it didn't work. Tapped another one and it cracked! The unicorn get out of the golden egg!

The end.

Lily

The unicorn fall down, the bridge crack. He fall to the water. The unicorn got stuck his face, in the egg. And I have (Mora) the keys and I open it and rescue it! He said thank you!

"unicorn"

"Me"

Mora

Once upon a time there was a unicorn her name was Ruthie. She lived on some green grass in a forest. She was having her walk in the forest.
She saw her face in the golden egg first. Then she got stuck in the egg. The magic keys cracked the egg. Ruthie the unicorn came out and she can play again!
She went back home and she played! The end.

Ruthie the unicorn

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

Ruthie

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

Once upon a time, there was a unicorn called Kia. Kia lived on the grass. The egg cracked and the turtle came out on the egg. The turtle broke the unicorn. A giraffe saved the unicorn. The giraffe grabbed the unicorn. The giraffe broke the turtle with the keys!

The end

Dawud Abdur Rahman

Tales Toolkit

Tales Toolkit enables children to create their own narratives by identifying 4 distinct components of a story:- Character, Setting, Problem and a Solution.

The unicorn I think got trapped in the egg. It cracked! It was sticky. It was smelly. The key came, it free the unicorn.

The end

Lev.

Once upon a time there was a unicorn called Lucy. She lived in a desert near the green grass. Then she got trapped in an egg. The egg liked to eat unicorns. And she got trapped in the egg. She called 'help!' Then the key helped. The big one didn't work. Then the medium key didn't work either. Then the smaller key did work! And then Lucy got up and she went to the lovely desert again! The end

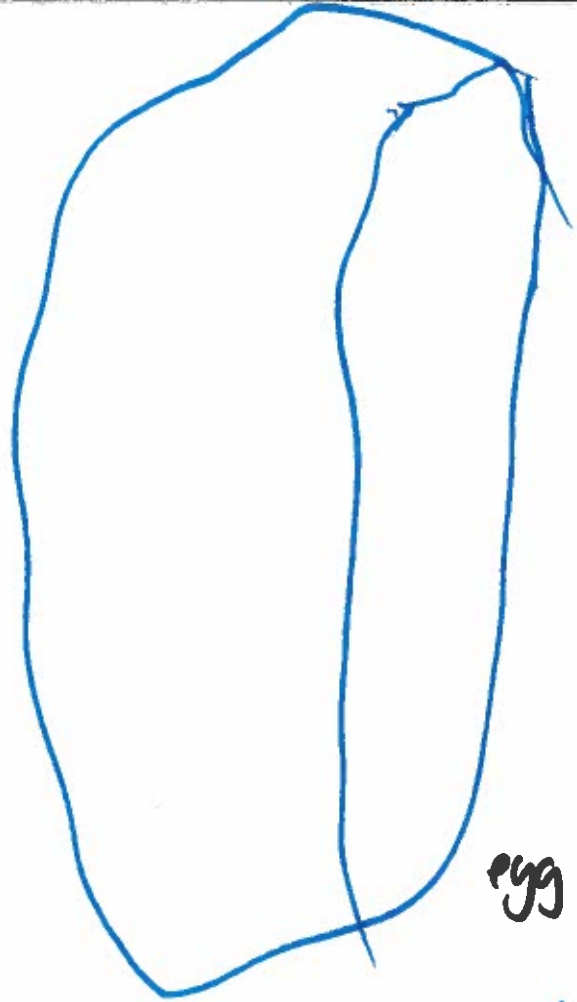

Cyrus.

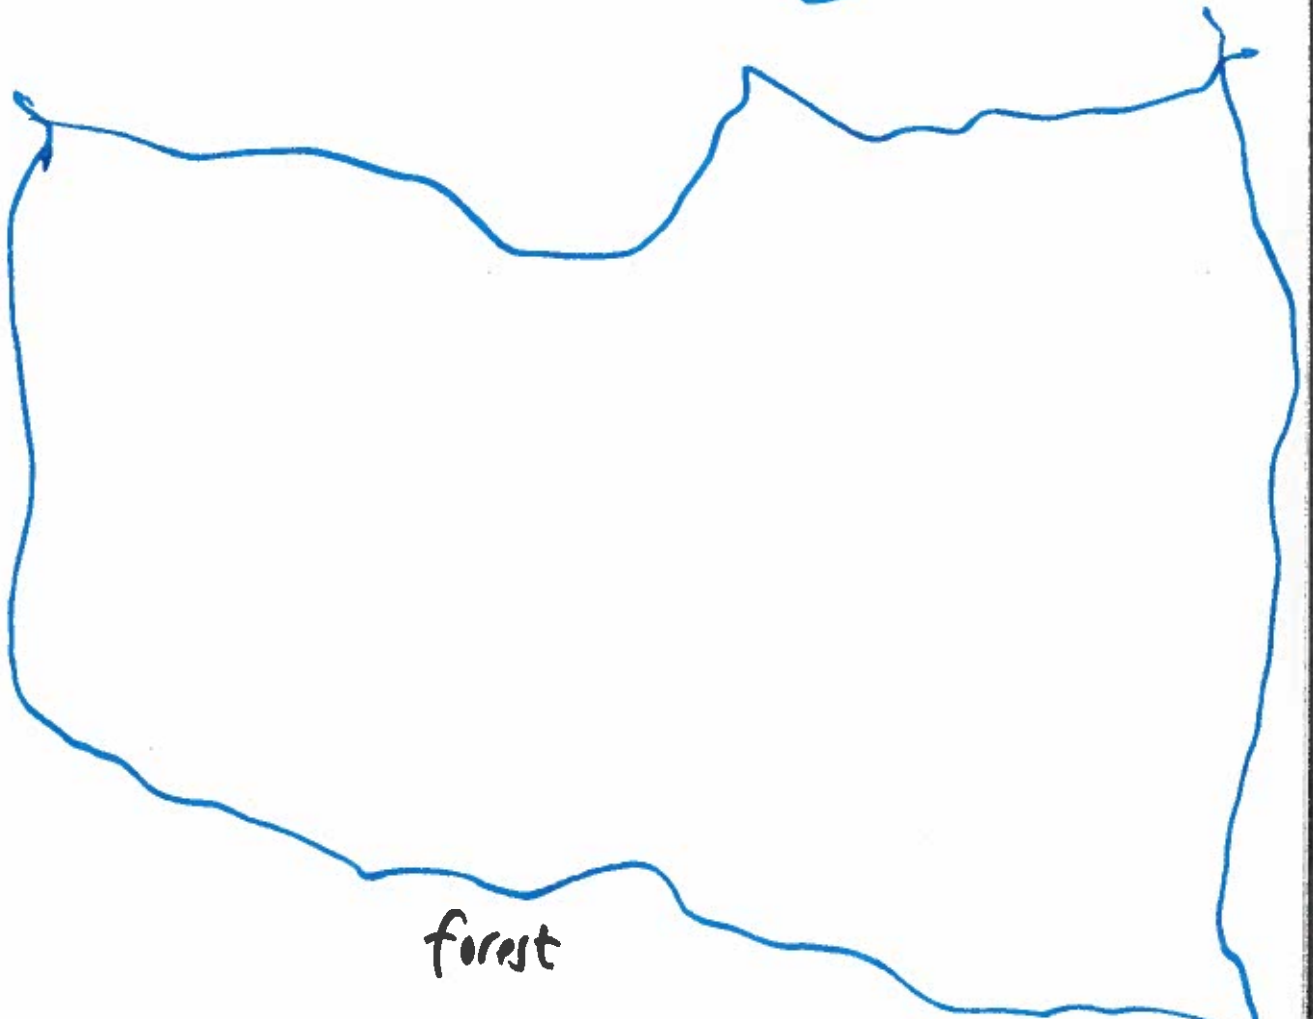

unicorn.

Keys

egg

forest

Cyrus